

FEDERATION OF DISTRIBUTORS NEWSLETTER

Issue No. 51, November 2006

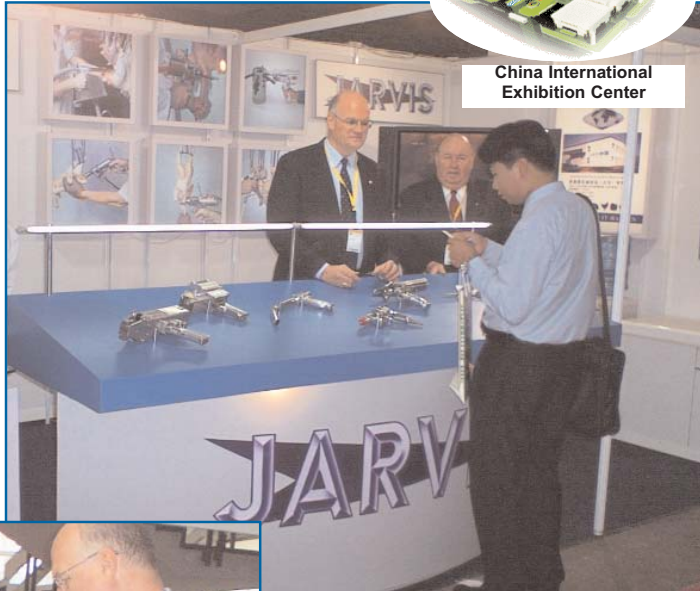

VIV CHINA 2006

China International Exhibition Center

For five years VIV China has been one of China's largest food industry and agricultural exhibitions. The 2006 expo, held at Beijing's China International Exhibition Center September 27-29, marked the first time Jarvis China, our newest subsidiary, has participated. Over 17,000 attendees viewed products and services displayed by almost 300 exhibitors. Representing Jarvis were Poultry Manager Harry Chamberlain, Jarvis China's John W. Long and Nereus Mel, and Jarvis Australia's John Emmett. Several representatives from Lenno Foodtech, our China distributor, also participated in this show.

Besides attending the expo, Harry Chamberlain, accompanied by Jarvis China and Lenno representatives, toured local processing plants in the greater Beijing area.

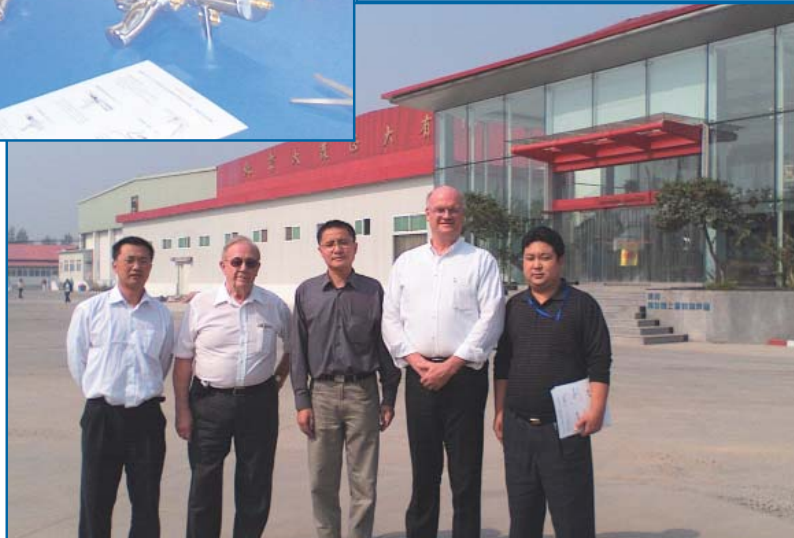

Jarvis China's John W. Long and Jarvis Australia's John Emmett (Assistant to the President) answering a booth attendee's questions.

From left, Nereus Mel, Jarvis China's Service Technician and John W. Long, Jarvis China's General Manager, describing Jarvis poultry tools to booth visitors.

Visiting Local Processors

From left, Jarvis China's Nereus Mel, Jarvis' Harry Chamberlain, Lenno's Barry Han, Jarvis China's Jarvis' John W. Long and Zao Zhanghene, General Manager of Dafa Chai Tai Co. Ltd. Located in Beijing, Dafa Chai Tai is a group of five plants, employing 6,000 employees, processing 160,000 chickens daily.

N Go Corn Huskers! N

Besides being known for its impressive agricultural accomplishments, Nebraska is also famous for its university's football team - the Huskers (or the "Big Red"). Following (and attending) University of Nebraska football games has become a state tradition and passion. On weekends, if a home game is being played, Lincoln Nebraska's Memorial Stadium becomes the state's third largest city, with an average attendance of over 75,000. Jarvis' Greg and Julie Hanson are both long-time and passionate Husker fans. Besides attending games, they have also converted a used Chevrolet mini-bus into the "Husker tailgate bus" for showing team spirit, and for also hosting pre -game tailgate parties. (An American tradition; tailgate parties are barbecues held before a football game in stadium parking lots to celebrate the home team, friends, and just having a good time). For the September 7th game against Louisiana's Nicholls State University, the Hanson's invited Jarvis President Vincent Volpe, Chuck Faltin, Jarvis' National Accounts Manager, and other friends to join them for the tailgate celebration and game. Along with a first-rate gourmet meal, the group watched the University of Nebraska beat Nicholls State 56 to 7!

Jarvis' Eastern District Manager Greg Hanson (the one with the apron) and two of his quests. From left, President Vin Volpe and National Accounts Manager Chuck Faltin.

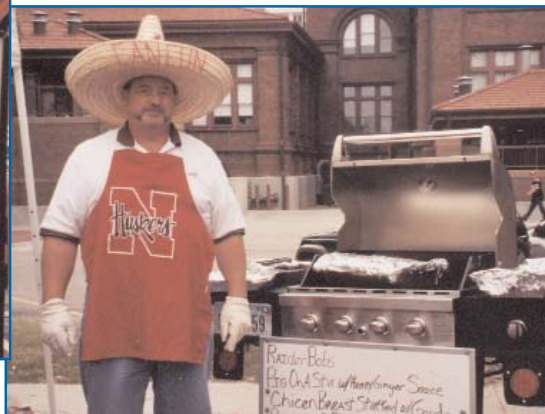

Friends of Greg Hanson who also attended the game and pre-party are (from left) Tami and John Hill, who works at Cargill-Schuyler, and their friends Bob and Mary Lutjen.

The story of "Big Red": Six years ago Greg and Julie Hanson bought the mini-bus from a local farmer who had originally used it as a van equipped for overnight hunting trips. Over time, the neglected van had elapsed into a wild chicken coup. With many hours of hard work, imagination and devotion, the neglected bus was transformed into "Big Red" - the perfect vehicle for attending University of Nebraska football games.

Jarvis Sales Representative Julie Hanson with the couple's "Big Red" mini-bus..

Master Chef Greg Hanson, proudly displaying today's tailgate menu, which included pig-on-a-stick with honey ginger sauce, chicken breast stuffed with gouda cheese, and the customary hot dogs and hamburgers. The sombrero is optional equipment.

Jarvis New Zealand Moves South

Jarvis Equipment NZ Ltd's new building at 668 Tremaine Avenue, Palmerston North, New Zealand

To better serve our New Zealand customers, Jarvis Equipment NZ Ltd., our New Zealand subsidiary, has moved from its present Auckland location to a more centralized location in the city of Palmerston North, 339 miles (546 kilometers) due south. This places Jarvis New Zealand closer to the country's main meat processing plants located on the North and South islands.

Tararua Mountain Range (and wind-mill farm) as seen from the city of Palmerston North.

it's the home of Massey University and the New Zealand Dairy Research Institute. The area also has one of the largest stock yards and the largest electricity-generating wind mill farm in the southern hemisphere (158 turbines provide power for 30,000 homes).

Jarvis Equipment NZ Ltd's new address is: 668 Tremaine Avenue, P.O. Box 4243, Palmerston North, New Zealand. The new phone number is (+64) 06 354-3504; Fax: (+64) 06 354-3507. E-mail and website are the same - sean@jarvisnz.com and www.jarvisnz.com. Best of luck mates in your new digs.

Situated at the foot of the Tararua Mountain Range, Palmerston North is the country's sixth largest city, offering a central location with significant road, rail and air connections. Known as New Zealand's knowledge city,

Jarvis Russia Moves Further East to Moscow

Jarvis LLC (Russia), our Russian subsidiary, has moved 808 miles (1300 kilometers) east, from Kaliningrad to Moscow. The new facility affords more office and warehousing space, and a location closer, and more centralized to Russia's meat processing industry. Jarvis Russia's new address is: Jarvis LLC, Zarechnaya 1, Ivanteevka, Moscow Region 141281, Russia. Their new telephone number is (+7) (495) 2230383; Fax: is (+7) (495) 2230384. Jarvis Russia's e-mail address and website remain the same - info@jarvis-russia.ru and www.jarvisrussia.ru.

Хорошее Везение Good Luck Jarvis Russia in your new home!

Jarvis Wins 2006 Middletown Baseball Championship

Besides the local New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox, the other team that has a large following is Jarvis' own baseball team which participates in the Middletown B Division Adult Softball League. And, unlike the Chicago Cubs and San Diego Padres, this team wins championships - twelve in the last 30 years.

This year Jarvis won the league championship; the first since 1998!

Before celebrating, the team took some time to have their photo taken. We're very proud of our baseball champions. Let's hope they can repeat their success in 2007!

2006 Division Champions

Jarvis' 2006 champion team. From left (back row) Assistant Manager Paul Mandeville, Buddy Warner, Alex Smith, Joe Walden, James Wright, Brian Burgess, and Ryan Mandeville. From left (front row) Robert Maceachern, Manager Nick Mandeville, Assistant Manager Chris Scibelli, Jeff Plenzio and Jeff Prysmaczok.

Jarvis Distributor Edgar Moore Visits Middletown

Recently, Edgar Moore, owner of Equipos Multiples Moore, C.A, Jarvis' distributor in Venezuela, visited the Middletown facility. Accompanying Mr. Moore was his daughter Jean, the company's Vice President responsible for organization and methods. Besides discussing current Venezuelan business conditions and long-term prospects with Mr. Volpe, Edgar and Jean also toured the production area and saw some of the latest computerized tooling and production technologies that have greatly streamlined Jarvis' manufacturing processes.

Located in Charallave, a city 30 miles (48 km) south of Caracas, Equipos Multiples Moore was originally founded in 1976 as an importer of air conditioning equipment. Mr. Moore's association with Jarvis began in 1995 with an initial order for 30 JCIII A Dehidrers. Today, he regularly imports band and brisket saws, beef dehorners and hock cutters for Venezuela's major meat processing plants. Poultry tools, for local poultry processors, are also imported.

Edgar Moore, owner of Equipos Multiples Moore, C.A, with his daughter Jean, who's also a company Vice President.

Edgar Moore with Mike Abdul, Jarvis' Operation Manager, inspecting the main housing of a USSS-2A Non-Penetrating Stunner.